A Quark for Mister Mark-Maurice Riordan 2000 Quark,n. (Phys.) One of three hypothetical components of elementary particles [from: 'Three quarks for Muster Mark!' in Joyce's Finnegans Wake] - The Concise Oxford Dictionary. In a wonderfully eclectic and lively selection of poems, this anthology counters the notion that science and poetry are magnetically opposed. The model of the two cultures has collapsed. Just as poets write about science and about recent scientific ideas, so too science has reached out to the language of poetry for its own intimations on the wilder shore of the here and the elsewhere. A Quark for Mister Mark includes poems, old and new, whose subject is science - its discoveries, its processes - but also poems which look at the world with an inherently scientific gaze, whether before Copernicus or after Einstein.

A Naturalist in Alaska-Adolph Murie 2018-12-01

The larger mammals of North America are known mostly to a few big game hunters, while the ordinary public observes them only in captivity or tamed. Very few students of ecology have ever lived with these animals in their native habitat—even fewer have written about them from an ecological viewpoint. In this respect, Adolph Murie is almost unique. This book concerns the domestic ways of the wildlife in Alaska, the grizzly bear, the wolf, the lynx, the wolverine, the Dall sheep, the caribou, and the Arctic fox. But even more fascinating than the life cycles of these creatures are their interrelationships—prey and predator maintaining a delicate balance in one of the few remaining wildernesses of this continent.

Lurid & Cute-Adam Thirlwell 2015-04-14 A dreamy and adrenaline-fueled new novel from a two-time Granta Best Young Novelist Lurid & Cute is a kind of machine for the reader's corruption. It opens with all the things we've come to expect of Adam Thirlwell—"the playfulness of language, the way the mandarin wit, line by line, consorts with grisly or louche material," as Jeffrey Eugenides has said—when the narrator wakes confused in a seedy hotel room. He has had the good education, and also the good job. Together with his wife and dog, he lives at home with his parents. But then the lurid overtakes him—a chain of events that feels to those inside it narcotic and neurotic, like one long and terrible descent: complete with lies, deceit, and chicanery, and including, in escalating order, one orgy, one brothel, and a series of firearms disputes. Lurid & Cute balances the complexity of an interior world—our hero's apparently innocent obsessions with food, old movies, and all the gaudy, shoddy building blocks of pop culture—with a picaresque plot delivered with expert, insidious pacing. For very possibly this is the story of a woebegone and global generation. And our hero, the sweetest narrator in world literature, also may well be the most fearsome. It's the most sophisticated and gruesome novel from an author celebrated for his precocious talents, and it will leave you feeling like you've been on one hell of a bender.

French Ecocriticism-Daniel Finch-Race 2017 This book expounds fruitful ways of analysing matters of ecology, environments, nature, and the non-human world in a broad spectrum of material in French. Scholars from Canada, France, Great Britain, Spain, and the United States examine the work of writers and thinkers including Michel de Montaigne, Victor Hugo, Émile Zola, Arthur Rimbaud, Marguerite Yourcenar, Gilbert Simondon, Michel Serres, Michel Houellebecq, and Éric Chevillard. The diverse approaches in the volume signal a common desire to bring together form and content, politics and aesthetics, theory and practice, under the aegis of the environmental humanities.

The Land of Lines-Victor Hussenot 2015-06-02 In the land of lines, anything is possible: the connection between a boy and a girl from different worlds, the potential for self-discovery, and the vanquishing of a monster. While exploring mysterious terrain, the characters cascade down geometric cliffs and mountains, navigating the unknown and finding their potential. Readers will immerse themselves in this engaging wordless graphic novel that captures the timeless heroic journey and celebrates the power of art.

White-Marie Darrieussecq 2005 It is 2015. Edmee and Pete are engineers on a remote research station in Antarctica, Project White. Pete has come to find peace among the practical rituals of life on the station. Edmee, the only woman on the base, works to secure communication with the outside world. Both are running from tragic events at home, and yet even as they try to escape the past, they are under scrutiny from the spirits haunting the station. These ghostly voices draw the reader ever more tightly into the story. In this setting of magnificent desolation, just fifteen kilometres from the South Pole, a love affair begins to flourish - until there is a catastrophic power failure at the base...

KANNJAWOU-Lyonel Trouillot 2019-03-01 In this energetic celebration of Haiti and its capital in the early 2000s, Trouillot embodies the nation's indomitable spirit. The anonymous, world-weary, 20-something male narrator keenly depicts a country entering a new era after years of dictatorship and the chaos wrought by the most recent foreign arrivals: the international peace-keeping forces sent to restore order after the departure of the U.S. Marines. In a series of journal entries, the young protagonist introduces readers to his world within a world—a community center in Port-au-Prince peopled by a motley group of friends, lovers, revolutionaries, compatriots, dreamers, schemers, and mentors, all living under the watchful eye of Mam Jeanne, the proprietress. In KANNJAWOU Trouillot has penned a love song and a swan song to that era of dispersion for Haiti's people, who, even when they are far from home carry with them the kannjawou spirit.

The World's Greatest Book of Useless Information-Noel Botham 2009-07-07 From the creators of the #1 New York Times bestseller The Book of Useless Information-a collection of even greater insignificance. More useless than ever before! Impress know-it-all friends with this all-new hodgepodge of frivolous facts and silly statistics that no one really needs to know. But honestly, how cool is it to find out that... ? There is a place in Maryland called Monkey's Eyebrow ? Giving yellow flowers is a sign of bad luck in Russia ? One brow wrinkle is the result of 200,000 frowns ? Paper can be made from asparagus This is the book that will also tell you... ? The meaning of 'mageirocophobia' ? Where it is illegal to kill a butterfly ? Huckleberry Finn's remedy for warts ? What bodily fluid the Romans used as a hair treatment And much, much more!

Tito-Scott Hildreth 2019-06-18 The only man in my life I felt I could trust was my father. A detective assigned to San Diego's gang crime unit; his focus was outlaw motorcycle clubs. His nemesis? A gang of thieves who had wreaked havoc on the city's financial institutions for nearly two decades. As fate would have it, I was preparing for a one-night stand with a tough-looking biker. As long as my father didn't find out, everything would be fine. If he learned of my fling with the tattooed bad boy, I could certainly talk my way out of it. The odds of Taddeo "Tito" Silva being in my father's crosshairs was impossible. Or, so I thought. TITO is book 6 of a 6-book series and can be read as a Stand-alone. It has no cheating, no sex outside the relationship, and has an HEA.

aupres de l'editeur. Non reference. Non illustre. 1888 edition. Extrait: ...eclat, renommee, Meditent; on se dit tout bas: Si je priais? On reve; et les plus grands sont les plus inquietes; Sa haute exception dans notre obscure sphere, C'est que, n'ayant rien fait, lui seul n'a pu mal faire; Le monde est un mystere inonde de clarte, L'enfant est sous l'enigme adorable abrite; Toutes les verites couronnent condensees Ce doux front qui n'a pas encore de pensees; On comprend que l'enfant, ange de nos douleurs, Si petit ici-bas, doit etre grand ailleurs. Il se traîne, il trebuché; il n'a dans l'attitude, Dans la voix, dans le geste aucune certitude; Un souffle a qui la fleur resiste fait ployer Cet etre a qui fait peur le grillon du foyer; L' il hesite pendant que la levre begaie; Dans ce naif regard que l'ignorance egaie, L'etonnement avec la grace se confond, Et l'immense lueur etoilee est au fond. On dirait, tant l'enfance a le reflet du temple, Que la lumiere, chose etrange, nous contemple; Toute la profondeur du ciel est dans cet il. Dans cette purete sans trouble et sans orgueil Se revele on ne sait quelle auguste presence; Et la vertu ne
