Ausgebildet zum OSS-Spion-Helias Doundoulakis; Gabriella Gafni 2015-05-30

Stellen Sie sich den Schrecken vor: An einem scheinbar ganz normalen Tag im Mai des Jahres 1941 wird ein Junge aus einem kleinen Dorf auf Kreta mit einer unerwarteten Bedrohung konfrontiert – der Einmarsch der deutschen Truppen. Er rennt um sich zu verstecken – seine erste Flucht in einer Reihe von Begegnungen mit dem Schicksal. Stellen Sie sich das Abenteuer vor: Der Junge und sein Bruder arbeiten für die SOE, eine Untergrundorganisation des Englischen Geheimdienstes. Wenn die Widerstandsbewegung entdeckt wird, fl iehen sie schnell durch die Berge Kretas und verstecken sich vor dem Feind am helllichten Tag. Gefahr droht überall. Stellen Sie sich den Ruhm vor: Der Junge wird in einem ägyptischen Palast zum Spion für das OSS (das Office of Strategic Services) ausgebildet, ein von der SOE neu gegründetes Gegenstück zum amerikanischen Nachrichtendienst. Stellen Sie sich die Gefahr vor: Während er auf seiner Undercover-Mission in Saloniki ist, riskiert der Junge andauernd sein Leben da er deutlich sichtbar mit einem Rundfunk operiert. Wird die deutsche Polizei ihn jemals entdecken? Stellen Sie sich den Mut vor: Sollte der Junge gefangen werden, würde er eher eine Kapsel mit Gift, die sein junges Leben schnell beenden würde, einnehmen als Folter zu ertragen. Oft fi ndet er sich nur Sekunden von diesen gefürchteten Maßnahme entfernt wieder. Stellen Sie sich den Triumph vor am Leben zu sein um diese Geschichte im Alter von 91 Jahren zu erzählen . . . Das alles ist wahr. Folgen Sie Doundoulakis' Verwandlung vom Jungen zum Mann, vom Mann zum Soldaten und vom Soldaten zum Spion. Diese Geschichte über das Spiel des Lebens muss einfach gelesen werden. Die Geschichte des Autors spielte neben den Geschichten von anderen Agenten in dem Dokumentarfi lm Camp X: Secret Agent School – eine Produktion der Yap Films – mit und wurde auf dem History Channel in Kanada, Kanal Smithsonian, sowie auf anderen weltweiten Netzwerken ausgestrahlt.

Trained to be an OSS Spy-Helias Doundoulakis, Gabriella Gafni 2014 Imagine the Terror: On a seemingly ordinary day in May, 1941, a boy from a tiny village in Crete faces an unexpected threat - the invasion of German troops. He runs for cover - his first escape in a series of encounters with destiny. Imagine the Adventure: The boy and his brother work for the SOE, an underground branch of the English Intelligence Service. When the resistance movement is uncovered, they quickly escape through the mountains of Crete, hiding from the enemy in broad daylight. Danger looms everywhere. Imagine the Glamour: The boy trains to be a spy for the OSS (the Office of Strategic Services), the SOE's newly formed American intelligence counterpart. Imagine the Peril: While on his undercover mission in Salonica, the boy constantly risks his life, operating a wireless radio in plain view. Will the German police ever discover him? Imagine the Courage: If captured, the boy resolves to take a poison capsule that will quickly end his young life, rather than endure torture. Often, he finds himself seconds away from that dreaded event. Imagine the Victory of living to tell the tale at age 91... It's all true! No imagination is necessary. This is the stuff of movies--a must-read story about the Game of Life. The author's story, along with those of other agents, was featured in the documentary Camp X: Secret Agent School, a production by YAP Films, and was aired on HISTORY Channel in Canada and other networks worldwide.
I Was Trained To Be A Spy-Helias Doundoulakis 2012-10-30 An American-born boy grew up in a small village on the Greek island of Crete. In his last year in high school, he witnessed the German invasion of the island in May of 1941 during the early days of WW II. At the age of eighteen, he joined a resistance group headed by his brother, and supplied crucial information to the SOE, an arm of the English Intelligence Service. This resistance group is uncovered, resulting in their hasty evacuation by the SOE to Cairo, Egypt. In Cairo, the author and his brother were asked to join the English Intelligence Service, but rather, pursued the American OSS, or Office of Strategic Services, the newly formed American intelligence counterpart. They were enlisted into the US Army, and attached to the OSS, where the author was trained in the Secret Intelligence sector, which included parachute jumping, wireless/Morse code training, commando/defense training, locks/safe-cracking techniques, escape methods, and environment assimilation techniques. After being transformed into a skilled “spy”, the author was sent back to Greece undercover, and along with a Greek naval intelligence officer, set up a communications cell in Salonica whereby daily coded messages to OSS Headquarters in Cairo were sent. One such message describes the course of events surrounding the bombing of the main railroad yard in Salonica, and the loss of thousands of German troops. The author recounts his personal experiences with the Cretan Resistance, his escape from Crete through the mountains, the evacuation by an English torpedo boat, his OSS training, the return mission to Greece, as well as recalling the near-capture encounters with the Gestapo and Greek police, and his final return to the United States.

Shadow's Pride-Stanzione & Gabriella Gafni Roland Stanzione & Gabriella Gafni 2009-02-01 Shadow's Pride chronicles the life of a true hero, branded by society as an outcast, owing to a series of health difficulties. An equine with immense heart, determination and courage, Areion envisioned a more fulfilling existence, filled with love, symbiosis with a rider and, ultimately, the manifestation of his potential to become a beginner dressage horse. Initially fated for slaughter after a history of abuse and maltreatment, the appendix sensed that he had to give the performance of his lifetime before a barn owner who purchased him at auction. Standing tall, resolute and with great dignity, Areion captured the heart of Roland Stanzione, who looked beyond Areion's surface physical limitations and conventional definitions of "worth" to find the heart of his best friend. Together, the two forged an inextricable bond, while combating life's alterations and problems, wrong diagnoses, and blatant neglect in an industry which prizes monetary value above all else. After being diagnosed with navicular degeneration, Areion underwent two surgeries and strove to reach the zenith of his capacity; but. just as the friends were about to train for a beginner's dressage competition, Destiny's capricious hand cruelly intervened and redirected their course. The narrative, uniquely rendered in the voices of the two protagonists, Roland and Areion, in turn, provides inspirational impetus for anyone suffering the pain of discrimination, deprivation, or physical challenge. In such a way, despite the unspeakable tragedy of the friends' eventual temporal parting, the story resonates with the hope of each new day.
The Boer War 1899-1902-John Grehan 2014-06-30 Fought between the British Empire and the two independent Boer republics, the Orange Free State and the Transvaal Republic, the First Boer War (1880_1881) was a rebellion by the Boers (farmers) against British rule in the Transvaal that re-established their independence. The engagements that it involved, such as they were, were small and involved few casualties.??More commonly referred to as just the Boer War, the Second Boer War (1899_1902), by contrast, was a lengthy conflict involving large numbers of troops from many British possessions (up to as many as 500,000 men), which ended with the conversion of the Boer republics into British colonies. The British defeated the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, first in open warfare and then in a long and bitter guerrilla campaign. British losses were high due to both disease and combat. It was also the war conflict which saw Winston Churchill first achieve household fame. ??The war had a lasting effect on the region and on British domestic politics. For Britain, the Boer War was the longest, the most expensive (£200 million), and the bloodiest conflict between 1815 and 1914, lasting three months longer and resulting in higher British casualties than the Crimean War. ??This unique collection of original documents will prove to be an invaluable resource for historians, students and all those interested in what was one of the most significant periods in British military history.

East German Foreign Intelligence-Kristie Macrakis 2009-09-10 This edited book examines the East German foreign intelligence service (Hauptverwaltung Aufklärung, or HVA) as a historical problem, covering politics, scientific-technical and military intelligence and counterintelligence. The contributors broaden the conventional view of East German foreign intelligence as driven by the inter-German conflict to include its targeting of the United States, northern European and Scandinavian countries, highlighting areas that have previously received scant attention, like scientific-technical and military intelligence. The CIA’s underestimation of the HVA was a major intelligence failure. As a result, East German intelligence served as a stealth weapon against the US, West German and NATO targets, acquiring the lion’s share of critical Warsaw Pact intelligence gathered during the Cold War. This book explores how though all of the CIA’s East German sources were double agents controlled by the Ministry of State Security, the CIA was still able to declare victory in the Cold War. Themes and topics that run through the volume include the espionage wars; the HVA's relationship with the Russian KGB; successes and failures of the BND (West German Federal Intelligence Service) in East Germany; the CIA and the HVA; the HVA in countries outside of West Germany; disinformation and the role and importance of intelligence gathering in East Germany. This book will be of much interest to students of East Germany, Intelligence Studies, Cold War History and German politics in general. Kristie Macrakis is Professor at the Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta. Thomas Wegener Friis is an Assistant Professor at the University of Southern Denmark’s Centre for Cold War Studies. Helmut Müller-Enbergs is currently a Visiting Professor at the University of Southern Denmark and holds a tenured senior staff position at the German Federal Commission for the STASI Archives in Berlin.

Where "Indians" Fear to Tread?-Fabienne C. Quennet 2001 The two fields of contemporary Native American literature and culture exist in the tension between two literary traditions: the Native oral and literary tradition and the modern Western mainstream literary influence. In her North Dakota quartet Love Medicine (1984), The Beet Queen (1986), Tracks (1988), The Bingo Palace (1994), Native American mixedblood author, Louise Erdrich (b. 1954) exemplifies where and how these traditions meet and interact. A postmodern reading of the quartet shows that Native American authors and literary critics alike need not be afraid to tread into postmodernism, since an interpretation from this perspective opens up the possibility of freeing Native American literature from the limiting label of "ethnic or minority literature" and of establishing it as a vital part of American literature. This postmodern interpretation of Louise Erdrich's quartet offers a discussion of the theoretical issues involved in the context of ethnic writing and its relation to postmodernism, as well as an analysis of her intricate narrative strategies, in particular, her use of multiple perspectives and of intertextual techniques. The main part of the interpretation consists of a reading of postmodern concepts such as magical realism, carnivalesque humor, the relationship between reader and text, gender roles and sexual identities, history and textuality, the trickster figure, and games and chance as can be found in Louise Erdrich's North Dakota quartet.

Retrenchment in the American Welfare State-Martin Schuldes 2011 The consolidation of public finance has become the most prevalent topic in recent policy discourse in the US. However, the political debate about fiscal "belt-tightening" stretches back to the last decades of the past millennium, induced by deteriorating economic conditions which followed the first oil price shock in the early 1970s. Retrenchment in the American Welfare State investigates to what extent different welfare state programs in the US were affected by cutbacks during the Republican Reagan era, on the one hand, and during the Democratic Clinton era on the other, and to what extent these cutbacks reveal certain "patterns" of retrenchment, and how the measured discrepancies can best be explained. (Series: Studies in North American History, Politics and Society/ Studien zu Geschichte, Politik und Gesellschaft Nordamerikas - Vol. 30)
The Graffitied Brain-Franc Masino 2010-07-26 “This is a psychological work written subconciously and spontaneously and without any preconceived plan.Although written in 2010, itis nonetheless a satirical reaction to late 20th century malaise. A very fragmented portrait of an author meditates at its centre. His central theme is freedom and escape.It is a ghost train of a journey and we are invited to take our seats for better or for worse."

Puso en orden exacto cronológico para contar una historia de verdad en que el amor de la familia puede vencer todos los desafíos de la vida. Notas y comentarios vinieron desde conversaciones con sus padres de sus años juntos y información obtenido de varios miembros de la familia. Con mapas enseñando los caminos tomados por sus padres, luego investigando y tomándolos ella sola para ver como debía haber sido para salir de la lucha en España en1938, se ayudó para contar una historia de verdad con mínimo de fantasía. Gloria hace lo posible para pintar una imagen de la cultura de dos distintos continentes durante los años 1913 hasta 1940 y más allá hasta sus fallecimientos. La historia enseña costumbres del tiempo y la tontería de la guerra traído por frustración, cosas políticas y la economía durante esta época. Encima de todo, enseña el amor verdadero que puede conquistar todos los desafíos de la vida. La historia ha enseñado lo terrible y negativo que paso en esta época. Pero, esta historia de verdad, habla del amor que dos personas tenían durante esta época hasta sus fallecimientos.

Women and New Reproductive Technologies-Judith Rodin 1991 Although major breakthroughs in reproductive technology have created dramatic opportunities for many people, they are not without problems. More significant than the question of whether the technologies are "good" or "bad," however, is for whom they are good, in what instances, and to whom they should be made accessible. These issues can be debated at multiple levels; from the ethical implications, to the social and psychological consequences for society and for the individual, to the legal and medical outcomes. Each chapter highlights a different array of problems and benefits, while emphasizing four major themes: the impact of technology on women's lives; the role of women; the individual versus society; and the fetus as patient.
Who is Afraid of Postmodernism?-Stephan Van Erp 2005 To the editors of this book, today's world is "postmodern". They see a fragmented world. It seems to have become implausible to find a common point of view, a unity in purpose or truth. Postmodernity challenges Christian faith because it appears to go against the very grain of a sense of tradition, communion, and commitment. On the eve of his election pope Benedict XVI warned against the "dictatorship of relativism". Will it still be possible to find genuine Christian ways to live in postmodern times? This collection of essays by a group of Dutch theologians will stimulate the imagination of anyone who reads them. Stephan van Erp (Tilburg 1966) was a researcher at the Dominican Study Centre for Theology and Society. At present, he is head of the department of theology and medical sciences at the Heyendaal Institute in Nijmegen (the Netherlands). Andr Lascaris (Amsterdam 1939) is a Dominican and a staff member of the Dominican Study Centre for Theology and Society in Nijmegen.
