Essays on Giordano Bruno-Hilary Gatti 2010-10-18 This book gathers wide-ranging essays on the Italian Renaissance philosopher and cosmologist Giordano Bruno by one of the world's leading authorities on his work and life. Many of these essays were originally written in Italian and appear here in English for the first time. Bruno (1548-1600) is principally famous as a proponent of heliocentrism, the infinity of the universe, and the plurality of worlds. But his work spanned the sciences and humanities, sometimes touching the borders of the occult, and Hilary Gatti's essays richly reflect this diversity. The book is divided into sections that address three broad subjects: the relationship between Bruno and the new science, the history of his reception in English culture, and the principal characteristics of his natural philosophy. A final essay examines why this advocate of a "tranquil universal philosophy" ended up being burned at the stake as a heretic by the Roman Inquisition. While the essays take many different approaches, they are united by a number of assumptions: that, although well versed in magic, Bruno cannot be defined primarily as a Renaissance Magus; that his aim was to articulate a new philosophy of nature; and that his thought, while based on ancient and medieval sources, represented a radical rupture with the philosophical schools of the past, helping forge a path toward a new modernity. Nicholas of Cusa and the Making of the Early Modern World- 2019-01-14 The authors focus on four major thematic areas - the reform of church, the reform of theology, the reform of perspective, and the reform of method - which together encompasses the breadth and depth of Cusanus' own reform initiatives.

Lettere, 1535-1565-Benedetto Varchi 2008
"Vengono qui riunite per la prima volta le lettere superstiti di quello che fu l'epistolario di Benedetto Varchi, lungo un arco di tempo compreso fra il 1535 e il 1565. In buona parte queste lettere furono originariamente indirizzate a personaggi di prima grandezza del nostro maturo Rinascimento (tra gli altri, Bembo, Caro, Aretino, Molza, Vettori), venendo in tal modo ad attestare la complessità degli interessi varchiani: filosofia, poesia, filologia, storia, grammatica, questi alcuni degli argomenti trattati, a riprova di un'estrema versatilità intellettuale, elementi, tutti, che fecero del Varchi un vero e proprio punto di riferimento. Insieme a tutto ciò, queste pagine ripercorrono a più riprese le congiunture politiche del tempo, con una particolare attenzione rivolta ai fuorusciti fiorentini antimedicei, ad alcuni dei quali Varchi restò vicino per la sua intera esistenza" (source : éditeur).

Marsilio Ficino-Sebastiano Gentile 2006 Marsilio Ficino, fonti, testi, fortuna, convegno svoltosi a Firenze nell'ottobre del 1999, viene a chiudere la serie degli incontri internazionali coordinati dal Comitato Internazionale Marsilio Ficino e ora pubblicati a Londra e a Parigi. Il volume offre le versioni aggiornate delle conferenze pubbliche tenute all'Istituto Nazionale di Studi sul Rinascimento in quella occasione sull'opera ed il pensiero di Ficino, dal Quattrocento al Seicento. Il suo taglio prevalentemente filologico costituisce un imprescindibile complemento alle pubblicazioni del 1984-86, sempre in onore del Ficino, di cui arricchisce le conclusioni con nuove prospettive di ricerca e nuove scoperte sul maggior filosofo del Quattrocento italiano. Un indice dei nomi agevola la consultazione del lettore, che troverà in questo libro uno strumento di ricerca fondamentale.

Narrative and Identity-Jens Brockmeier

2001-01-01 Annotation This text evolved out of a December 1995 conference at the International Research Center for Cultural Studies (IFK) in Vienna, attended by scholars from psychology, psychiatry, philosophy, social sciences, literary theory, classics, communication, and film theory, and exploring the importance of narrative as an expression of our experience, as a form of communication, and as a form for understanding the world and ourselves. Nine scholars from Canada, the US, and Europe contribute 12 essays on the relationship between narrative and human identity, how we construct what we call our lives and create ourselves in the process. Coverage includes theoretical perspectives on the problem of narrative and self construction, specific life stories in their cultural contexts, and empirical and theoretical issues of autobiographical memory and narrative identity. The Phenomenology of Religious Life-Martin Heidegger 2010-02-26 The Phenomenology of Religious Life presents the text of Heidegger's important 1920-21 lectures on religion. The volume consists of the famous lecture course Introduction to the Phenomenology of Religion, a course on Augustine and Neoplatonism, and notes for a course on The Philosophical Foundations of Medieval Mysticism that was never delivered. Heidegger's engagements with Aristotle, St. Paul, Augustine, and Luther give readers a sense of what phenomenology would come to mean in the mature expression of his thought. Heidegger reveals an impressive display of theological knowledge, protecting Christian life experience from Greek philosophy and defending Paul against Nietzsche.

Philosophical Sketches-Susanne K. Langer 1979
The Ash Wednesday Supper-Giordano Bruno 1975
Giordano Bruno was an itinerant Italian friar who was burned at the stake in 1600 for heresies, which included his rejection of the Ptolemaic cosmology. Of his important writings, 'La Cena de le ceneri' was one of the first works in which Copernican theory had impact outside the sphere of the natural sciences. Arguing for the physical reality of the infinite universe with no centre, Bruno sought to prove that each man is every man, that conflict would be resolved if all men accepted the unifying potential of his hermetic religion. Using this radical cosmology, Bruno sought to heal the secular and religious wounds of sixteenth-century Europe.
